The Sequoia Hospital Foundation...

Lorry Lokey's $2.5 million challenge to Sequoia Hospital's community

I am pleased to share with you the news that Lorry Lokey, the founder of Business Wire and a grateful Sequoia patient, has agreed to match every dollar given to the Sequoia Hospital Foundation between now and January 31, 2014, up to $2.5 million!

But we need your help. If we are to earn Mr. Lokey's $2.5 million, he has challenged us to first raise $2.5 million from the community!

This gift from the Lorry I. Lokey Donor Advised Fund - the Sequoia Hospital Foundation's largest single gift to date - will establish a "building and technology" fund at the Sequoia Hospital Foundation with contributions supporting advances in medical technology at the hospital. As future advances develop, this growing fund will serve to provide the funding necessary to help bring this technology to Sequoia Hospital.

How can you help? All new gifts and pledges to the Sequoia Hospital Foundation are eligible for this dollar-for-dollar match. While Mr. Lokey's funds will be applied to our "building and technology" fund, you may designate that your gift be applied to any of our funds or departments within the hospital. Please join us in helping to rise to this exceptional challenge. Every dollar you give will be matched, doubling the impact of your own support on the lives of Sequoia's patients and their families.

JoAnn C. Kemist, President, Sequoia Hospital Foundation
